

DHL Corporate Wall

Langen, 1999

Office/administration buildings, Design/Object

The wall is simultaneously a note and a sign. The material the choice of simply stacked, highly polished stainless steel tubes with 25 cm diameter and a 2 mm wall creates spherical reflections when observed from certain angles, which are a reference to the global activities of the user. The appearance of the wall is constantly changing under the influence of light, movement of the viewer and the movements on the other side of the wall.
