

Blossom Hotel Kish Island

Kish, 2004
Hotels

This is a tower, whose principle geometry is reminiscent of a naturally-grown and organic structure. This is a tower offering an abundance of luxury without wasting electricity but rather generating it in a playful way. This is a tower that opens up like a flower over the course of the day. This is a tower uniting ancient Persian culture with 21st century technology. This tower is a mighty landmark, a tower conjuring up paradise.

Blossom Hotel Kish Island

Kish, 2004
Hotels

Technical details:

Client: n.a.

Typology: Hotels

Procurement documentation: Competition

Service phases (HOAI): 1-2